

Southwest Georgia Regional Model Bridge Building Contest Registration & Parent Letter

In commemoration of National Engineers Week, Chehaw and the Georgia Space Grant Consortium have teamed up to invite Middle and High school students to compete in the 16th annual Model Bridge building competition on Saturday, February 24th, 2018 at 9 AM.

The Bridge building competition provides middle and high school students with realistic engineering problems while developing excitement about careers in science, math, engineering and technology. Students test their problem solving and engineering design skills by creating structurally efficient balsa wood bridges under very demanding physical specifications. Bridges are tested for structural efficiency, by measuring its breaking load relative to its overall mass.

Students who get involved in the Southwest Georgia Regional Model Bridge Building Competition will get the chance to compete against middle and high school students in the surrounding area.

The top 3 teams in each category are awarded commemorative prizes. A plaque is given to the school with the best overall performance.

Competition rules and building tips can be found on Chehaw's Facebook event page or by emailing akelly@chehaw.org
